SCHOOL COUNSELOR

BEHAVIOR MODIFICATION FOR FAMILIES

One strategy is having family rules. You are probably thinking that is nothing new, we have rules at our house. I am sure that is true, but do you have those rules posted? From my experience working with families, I can tell you that unless your rules are posted their existence is questionable. During family counseling, parents and children will share their family rules, but they rarely matched perfectly. Tip: Have two to four household rules, discussed and agreed upon.
