SHOUT OUT News!

KENNAN BOROUGHS & CAROLE LOHR!

Kennan Boroughs deserves a huge amount of gratitude for riding the bus home with a little guy who is having some problems. He was nice enough to give his time just to make sure the student and other students got home safely. THANKS KENNAN!!! I'm sure everyone else thanks you, too!! You are awesome and thanks!!!

The other half of the thanks goes to Ms. Carole Lohr, who had to follow the bus to get Mr. Boroughs back to school. Our thanks to both of them!

Brenda, Ken, and Roma

School COUNSELOR

TEACHING EMPATHY:

At around 8 or 9 years of age, children begin to develop the cognitive skills necessary to understand the concept of empathy. Even 6 year olds are concerned about being treated well, and they want others to be treated well too. In the next edition, we will be looking at some ideas to help develop empathy in our children. Stay tuned!
