IDEAS TO HELP DEVELOP EMPATHY: PART 2

Look for Good in Everyone: When our children are faced with people they don't like or are at odds with, encourage them to try to find something good, however small, in that person.

Involve Your Child in Charitable activities: Acts of kindness and charity are excellent ways to teach your children empathy. Your child could help when planning and making a meal to take to a sick friend. They could also help donate time or items to a local charity.
